COLLECTION

Departure for Monopoli to start a fishing experience with native fishermen. Walk down to the beach in the silent dawn, where a fisherman with his polporella boat will be waiting. Gliding out a little way over the rocks you then begin to search the waters for an octopus. The traditional local boats, called gozzo, are made with low bottoms especially for this shallow work. Using sometimes a lamp to attract the creatures, you then catch them by hand. The octopus in traditional Apulian cuisine is used for a dish of crudo, or cooked in a simple way in a pignata, a slow braised dish with cherry tomatoes, onions garlic and lots of fresh herbs, a tasty and very typical receipt. It is possible to embark a maximum of 03 persons on a gozzo. On board a chilled Ferrari Bottle and Taralli are served during the experience. The excursion will be definitely confirmed 3 days before scheduled departure, according to weather conditions. It is necessary to book the excursion at the reception.
