Yoga is a therapy that aims to unite the mind, soul and body. Most yoga styles are derived from 'hatha yoga', a type of yoga that focuses on the body and breath and aims to develop control the body through poses. All styles of yoga balance the body, mind and spirit, but how they do so may differ. Some styles focus on the poses, while others may focus on breath work, alignment or the flow of movement. Breathing is very important in yoga, as the breath signifies your vital energy. In yoga, being able to control your breath can help you to control your body and your mind. No matter which style of yoga you choose, the health benefits are many. Iyengar Yoga focuses on three aspects: alignment, sequencing and timing. Alignment means maintaining the intended pose while respecting the body's boundaries.
