The rhythm of agriculture has always shaped life in Puglia, a land renowned worldwide as the kingdom of extra virgin olive oil. The region is home to approximately 60 million olive trees, half of which are centuries old and more than 5 million even millennia old – an extraordinary heritage that in recent years has sadly been threatened by the spread of Xylella. These living monuments are carefully preserved within the 80 hectares of Tenuta Allegretti, where magnificent productive specimens stand as powerful symbols of a deeply rooted cultural tradition. During your stay, we invite you to set aside time for a truly authentic and distinctive experience: an exclusive journey led by our EVO sommelier, passionately devoted to her work and Research Coordinator in a CNR project focused on sustainable agriculture. Over the course of approximately two hours, she will guide you through the most evocative corners of the olive mill, sharing insights into Apulian agricultural history while revealing the nutraceutical properties hidden within the hectares surrounding this remarkable estate. An educational and sensory journey that evolves into an emotional and innovative tasting experience – from a guided exploration of different olive oil varieties, to the contemplative appreciation of these sublime natural masterpieces, culminating in a scientifically grounded introduction to local agronomic culture. By the end of the experience, you will become true “Oleologists of Puglia”, ambassadors of our liquid gold to the world. The journey concludes beneath the shade of our olive trees with a masterclass on three selected oils – the perfect finale to an immersion in nature, knowledge and tradition.
